Sermon notes from 11/18/07

Psalm 95

Rev. David Stewart

Summary

The Life of Faith—Rooted in God's Promises, Running to the New Jerusalem

This Psalm has served as a call and guide to worship since the early church. It was probably composed for the Feast of Tabernacles, when God's people re-lived their time of encampment in the wilderness. This Psalm serves as a call to match our outward gestures with a sincere heart.

Message

I. Rejoicing (vv. 1-5)

II. Reverence (vv. 6-7b)

III. Response (vv. 7c-11)

Application

Please consider the following questions as you seek the Holy Spirit's direction:

1. What is your attitude when you approach the throne of God in worship?
2. Why was (is) posture so important in worship?
3. When is "Today", and how have I responded to the call of God to enter His rest?
